Coconino County & CJCC Announce Partnership with White House Justice Initiative

Today, Coconino County and the Criminal Justice Coordinating Council (CJCC) announced a partnership with the White House to launch the Data-Driven Justice Initiative.

The initiative is led by a bipartisan coalition of 67 city, county and state governments, including Pima County, who have committed to growing integrating data-driven strategies that divert low-level offenders with mental illness out of the criminal justice system as well as change the current method of pre-trial incarceration.

“Along with the success of the County Sheriff’s Exodus Program and the efforts of our partner in the City of Flagstaff, this initiative will be important in reducing recidivism in the County and saving taxpayer dollars,” stated CJCC County Representative and CSA President, Supervisor Mandy Metzger. “I am proud of the course CJCC and Judge Slayton have already begun as we work to keep our communities safe and healthy.”

The CJCC is comprised of 34 Northern Arizona agencies, including county staff, county and city courts, municipalities, public defenders, probation officers, school districts and private organizations. The council pools their resources to address public safety issues across jurisdictions throughout Coconino County.

ADWR Discusses Northwest Basins Planning Area in Mohave County

On Wednesday evening, the Arizona Department of Water Resources (ADWR) held a public meeting to discuss water conditions in the Northwest Basins Planning Area. This meeting is the first of a series of meetings to examine water resource demand and challenges for the area.

During the meeting a presentation addressed groundwater conditions for the area and a preview of existing regulatory tools.

Mohave County requested that ADWR assist with identifying solutions to water concerns in their region. ADWR agreed that this basin should be a priority and is allocating resources that support the stakeholder process.

This is the first meeting, which is part of Governor Ducey's Water Initiative for the State. Through the Planning Area Stakeholder Process, ADWR will work closely with rural areas and local stakeholders to define their water resource challenges and identify strategies that will be successful in assisting with meeting future water demands.

On October 5, 2015, Governor Ducey announced his Water Initiative to help ensure the certainty and vitality of Arizona's water supplies for future generations. In addition to the Planning Area Stakeholder Process, the Governor's Water Initiative involves the creation of the Governor's Water Augmentation Council, which is tasked with investigated long-term water augmentation strategies, additional water conservation opportunities, funding, and infrastructure needs to help secure water supplies for Arizona's future.

PTSD Study Committee Endorses HB 2350

On Tuesday, the Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder in Public Safety Study Committee met and heard presentations from Josette Sullins, CEO of Go dehp, and Dr. Steve Carson.

Ms. Sullins presented on her dēhp Therapeutic program which has shown promise in the management of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder and is currently undergoing an evidence-based study in conjunction with Southwest Behavioral Health. Dr. Carson, in his presentation, addressed the differences between Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder and Post-Traumatic Stress Injury.

The full committee endorsed HB 2350: traumatic events counseling, which was passed and signed into law by the Governor this year. HB 2350 requires the state and political subdivisions, including counties, to establish a program to provide up to 12 visits of counseling treatment for public safety employees who experience a traumatic event. The treatment must be provided by a license psychologist, or a therapist, with training and expertise in treating trauma. Payment for treatment under the act does not create a presumption of compensability for mental illness, injury or condition under the workers' compensation program.

The committee's purpose is to research and report on the effects of post-traumatic stress disorder on state and local law enforcement officers. The committee is set to expire at the end of the year; however, another meeting is tentatively planned for a date to be announced some time in November.

This Week in Arizona History...

On June 28, 2013 the Yarnell Hill Fire, caused by lightning, started near Yarnell, AZ in Yavapai County. Tragically, two days later, on June 30, the fire overran and killed 19 members of the Granite Mountain Hotshots, an elite firefighting team within the Prescott Fire Department.

The Yarnell Hill Fire resulted in the highest wildfire firefighter death toll in the U.S. since 1933 when 29 firefighters were killed in the Griffith Park Fire in Los Angeles, CA.

Today, a memorial, honoring the brave 19 Granite Mountain Hotshots, stands about a mile from where the firefighters died, just north of the Ranch House Restaurant on State Route 89 in Yarnell. Arizona will forever remember and honor the victims of this tragic event.
