Surface Transportation Funding Task Force Holds 3rd Meeting

On Wednesday, the Surface Transportation Funding Task Force (Task Force) held their third meeting.

Brian Ross with Mott MacDonald Group, an engineering management consulting firm, presented the Task Force with a general background on how public private partnerships (P3) work. He reported that several states are looking to use P3s to fund various transportation projects.

Tom Belshe, Deputy Director of the League of Arizona Cities and Towns, shared with the Task the importance of the Highway User Revenue Fund to Arizona's cities and towns. Mr. Belshe reiterated past comments that HURF funds should be protected from future fund sweeps.

Senate Bill 1490, sponsored by Senator Worsley, established the 9-member Task Force to review transportation needs and revenue sources in Arizona and recommend specific revenue proposals for dedicated funding sources for specified transportation-related items.

The Task Force is required to cooperate with the Department of Administration to conduct a statewide study to identify vacant or underused buildings owned by the state that could be sold to provide funding for transportation projects. Additionally, they are required to issue progress reports every three months to the Governor and the Legislature and to submit a final report of its findings and recommendations to the Governor and the Legislature by December 31, 2016. The Task Force will continue to meet every two weeks.

Committee members include: Alan Maguire; Jim Rounds (Rounds Consulting); Kevin McCarthy (ATRA), Mary Peters (Mary Peters Consulting Group); Grant Nulle (Arizona Department of Revenue); Julie Pastrick (Flagstaff Chamber of Commerce); John Ragan (AZ Chamber of Commerce and Industry); Michael Tully; David Williams.

Attorney General's Federalism Unit Interim Meeting

This week the Federalism Unit of the Attorney General's (AG) office briefed Legislators and staff on the unit's progress on current cases and what the unit expects going forward.

The AG's office discussed efforts to counter frivolous lawsuits, Environmental Protection Agency actions, identity theft, and changes to the Waters of the United States (WOTUS) rules. The AG's office is also working on cases regarding overtime rules for white collar workers and the Obama Administration's recent pronouncements on transgender bathroom use. The AG's office argued that many of the federal government's programs and initiatives were intrusive and burdensome.

The AG's office, either singularly or in coordination with other states, is currently litigating with a number of federal agencies. Among those efforts, they are litigating with the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) regarding ozone restrictions. The AG is arguing that EPA ozone rules are unrealistic because in many places, the combination of natural ozone and ozone that blows in from other places nearly exceeds the EPA's maximum limits. The AG is also fighting new WOTUS rules that they argue are a substantial intrusion on states' traditional rights. As with much of the Federalism Unit's litigation, this lawsuit was brought jointly with a number of other states as a cost-sharing and mutual reinforcement measure.

Also of interest was the AG's activity regarding the Mexican Gray Wolf and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's efforts to increase the wolf's Arizona population. The AG is joining a multistate amicus curiae brief to influence a case that deals with the wolf.

This Week in Arizona History...

October 13, 1909, President William Howard Taft visited the Arizona Territory on a transcontinental tour. On his visit, which included a stop at the Grand Canyon, he promised to do his best to bring statehood to the territory.

On February 14, 1912, his promise became a reality and Arizona achieved statehood, becoming the 48th state and last of the contiguous states to be admitted to the Union.
